ENEMY HATCHING BIG PLANS OUT ON THE BRITISH FRONT

To Hide Them He Fights Desperately With Gen. Haig's Men.

By Joseph W. Grike. (Copyright, 1918, by the New York World.)

British Headquarters in France.—Night raids, with disastrous consequences to the enemy, continue to be the only military development on this front. Obtaining "samples," or prisoners is one reason for these expeditions into the German lines at different points, but they're killing expeditions above all. One raiding party accounted for over 100 Germans during one of these recent incursions into the enemy trenches, although only twenty prisoners were taken.

The Germans understand the vicious character of these encounters and fight desperately. Earlier in the war many of them would have been considered pretentious operations, but now they're only raids.

Enemy Barrages Are Frequent. Headquarters in France.

Enemy Barrages Are Frequent.

Enemy Barrages Are Frequent.

The Germans are loath to have the British obtain any prisoners or identifications, especially as they are bringing into line divisions which have been resting during the past month or more. As a consequence, the enemy barrages are frequent, though of short duration, and his Very lights (red and green balls of fire signals shot from Very pistols) proclaim his pervousness. He is hatching out big plans and wants nothing known about them.

But these raids are having other consequences. The British are sharpening their teeth as a result of such encounters. Everywhere along the line I have found this to be so. The enemy will raip a white and when again he starts to attack.

Apart from those trench raiding exploits there happen daily many brilliant air exploits. A noted British airman starts out early in the morning to bring down five machines before lunch and does so. Another airman vanquishes four, while over the German lines another British pilot sees a compatriot land because of engine trouble. Without hesitation, he swoops down, hoping to be able to rescue the unfortunate pilot before the conrushing German infantry can capture him, but, mistaking the Germans for friendly troops, the pilot delays too long, and his would-be rescuer only has time enough to start his machine and gain a little before German batteries send a howling shower of shells about him.

Americans Everywhere.

Americans Everywhere.

Americans Everywhere.

I went into old shell stricken Arras today on a visit to that sector, and my guide was an American officer attached to a British division. It is only one of many examples of the fast developing Anglo-American co-partnership in warfare against the Teutons. It is not surprising now to find Americans anywhere on the western front.

There is still talk from enemy sources of an epidemic of influenza in at least two of his armies, but if the Germans think such reports can be used as camouflage, he is quick to take advantage of them. However, no one believes it is in the least responsible for delaying his attack. He is simply perfecting his organization and the allies are simply getting ready to smash lies are simply getting ready to smash it when he does launch the blow.

The price-fixing legislation is before that body on a motion by Senator Martin, of Virginia, democratic leader, to instruct the senate conferees to recede from their position of insistence on the senate amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill fixing the price at $2.50, standard, instead of $2.30 as fixed by the house.

The motion was made Saturday afternoon, but after brief debate, further consideration was deferred in order to take up the fortifications bill. Senators from the large wheat-raising states are insisting that the senate stand firm for the price of $2.50, declaring that the cost of production has increased to such an extent during the past year that the higher price is justified and reasonable.

SAMMIES HAVE MANY PLEASANT AMUSEMENTS

Warner Park Popular-Excursions, Dances, Socials Help Soldiers Keep Smiling.

Chattanooga has many places Chattanooga has many places of amusement and pleasure for the soldier and no matter what his taste he finds opportunities for gratifying it. Several organizations are devoted entirely to the planning of entertainments for "Sammy" and added to these social functions, the parks, lakes, boat excursions, movies and various other forms of amusements so that he has practically all he can desire.

warner park was considered dull and was visited by a comparative few but with advent of the rollercoaster and the skating rink and other attractions it is now the favorite of the Sunday any content of the state of Sunday amusement seeker. There is hardly a night in the week that some-thing is not "going on" at his popu-lar place of amusement, and soldiers lar place of amusement, and soldiers from the camps keep things "humming." As a place of amusement for the soldier Warner park is decidedly the most popular. But this park is not the only amusement place fig. "Sammy"; boating and swimming on the river, swimming in McCallle and Lookout lakes: movies for those who are lovers of the silent drama, and for the kodak "flend" or he who wishes quiet and solitude, Lookout mountain, Signal mountain and Missionary ridge afford all that the heart could desire. Saturday nights the churches hold "open house" for men in khaki, where they spend a pleasant evening and make good acquaintances.

Add to these the dances, entertainments at the soldiers' rest room, and various other social functions and it can be seen that a "soldier boy" need have no trouble in finding something he would like to do every spare moment he has available. he would like to do every spare mo-ment he has available.

(International News Service.)
Chicago.—Substitutions of French for German now taught in Chicago's public schools and discontinuation of all publications issued here in the German tongue are asked in a resolution adopted and submitted to Mayor Thompson by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Hague, July 1.—It is officially announced that the government has agreed to export new potatoes in equal quantities to each of the belligerent nations. It is also announced that Germany has undertaken to send into Holland 50,000 tons of coal during July. Amsterdam, July 1.—The Telegraaf learns that the export of new potatoes from Holland to Germany has begun, fifty wagon loads being dispatched daily. The Telegraaf protests against the exportation on the ground that if it is continued a potato famine may be expected in Holland next winter.

MINERS ASKED TO CONFINE CELEBRATION TO ONE DAY

Washington, July I.—A renewed appeal to coal miners to confine celebrance of the day of Independence solely to July 4, so that not more than one day's production will be lost, was advised by the fuel administration. It was pointed that only by speeding up of production, can the nation hope to keep peace with the excessive war demand for coal.
